HealthTrust is pleased to join with your employer in offering you a Healthcare Flexible Spending Account (Healthcare FSA) as a potentially valuable tax-saving benefit under your employer’s Flexible Benefits Plan.

This brochure summarizes how this benefit works and should help you decide whether to participate. The specific terms and conditions of the Healthcare FSA benefit are included in the Flexible Benefits Plan Document, available from your employer.

Authorized by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), a Healthcare FSA allows you to pay for qualifying healthcare expenses with pre-tax dollars. Contributions to this account are directly deducted from your paycheck before federal income or Social Security taxes are withheld, and qualifying reimbursements are also not taxable to you. In addition, your employer may also choose to contribute to your Healthcare FSA.

Using pre-tax dollars to reimburse yourself for things like healthcare plan deductibles and medical expenses that your healthcare plan does not pay can mean significant savings for you!

How It Works

Once you have met the eligibility requirements established by your employer, you have the opportunity to enroll in the Healthcare FSA. You must re-enroll during the open enrollment period prior to each plan year in order to continue participating. Once you choose to enroll, you will need to:

- Estimate your expected out-of-pocket healthcare expenses for the coming plan year and review what expenses are eligible for reimbursement. A partial list of eligible expenses is included in the Eligible Expenses section of this brochure. A detailed list is in the Plan Document, available from your employer; the list is also downloadable from the “Resources” section of www.healthtrustnh.org.

- Decide how much you want to contribute to your account up to your employer’s maximum contribution limit. The amount you elect to contribute is deducted from your paycheck in equal installments throughout the plan year (or during the 2½-month grace period immediately following the plan year if elected by your employer). A healthcare expense is incurred at the time the care or service is furnished and not when you are billed, charged for or pay for the service. The Plan Document, available from your employer, provides an overview of the Healthcare FSA and a detailed listing of eligible expenses. You can also access a detailed list of eligible healthcare expenses in the “Resources” section of www.healthtrustnh.org.

- Keep in mind that, once enrolled in a Healthcare FSA, you cannot change your payroll deduction and deposited in your Healthcare FSA.

After you incur an eligible expense, you can seek reimbursement from your account (see the Receiving Reimbursement section of this brochure for more details).

Eligible Expenses

Your Healthcare FSA can only be used to reimburse qualifying healthcare expenses incurred during the plan year (or during the 2½-month grace period immediately following the plan year if elected by your employer). A healthcare expense is incurred at the time the care or service is furnished and not when you are billed, charged for or pay for the service. The Plan Document, available from your employer, provides an overview of the Healthcare FSA and a detailed listing of eligible expenses.

To qualify, the expenses must:
- Be incurred by you (the eligible employee), your spouse or your eligible dependents.
- Not otherwise be reimbursed through a group health plan, other insurance or any other source.
- Be considered medically necessary, e.g., for the purpose of treating a medical condition or illness.
- Not be considered a dental plan, including orthodontic expenses
- Be considered an eligible expense under your employer’s FSA and the Eligible Expenses section of this brochure for more details).

Ineligible Expenses

Below is a partial list of expenses ineligible for reimbursement through a Healthcare FSA. The Plan Document, available from your employer, provides a more detailed list of ineligible expenses. Or, you can access a more detailed list from the “Resources” section of www.healthtrustnh.org.

- Expenses reimbursed or entitled to reimbursement by insurance or other plan coverage
- Expenses not considered medically necessary
- Cosmetic surgery
- Health club dues
- Items or services utilized for promoting “general” health

Receiving Reimbursement

When you incur an eligible healthcare expense, you can apply for a reimbursement from your account in one of two ways:

1. Submit to HealthTrust a Flexible Spending Account Reimbursement Form obtained from your employer or downloaded from the “Resources” section of www.healthtrustnh.org.
2. Submit your claim online by going to the “Coverage” section of www.healthtrustnh.org, click on the “My FSA Account” button and follow login instructions provided for entering required information plus scanning, mailing or faxing related receipts.

When seeking reimbursement from your account, you must provide copies of all related bills, receipts, explanation of benefits, or other written statements that include a description of the service, name of the provider, relationship of the person who incurred the expense, the amount of expense you have incurred, and the date the service was incurred. Please note that cancelled checks are not acceptable as proof of your expense. Mail or fax this information to:

Reimbursement is provided on a weekly basis, and the minimum check amount is $20 unless it is the last claim of the plan year. For your convenience, HealthTrust processes reimbursements through either check or direct deposit. Healthcare FSA expenses will be reimbursed up to the annual election amount. Reimbursement requests are limited to expenses incurred during the plan year (or the 2½-month grace period immediately following the plan year if elected by your employer) and may be submitted for up to 90 days after the plan year (or grace period) ends.

If you leave employment during a plan year, you may have the right to elect to continue your Healthcare FSA contributions and have access to your Healthcare FSA balances for the remainder of that plan year, subject to the requirements and limitations set forth under federal COBRA law. Please see the Plan Document or contact either your employer or HealthTrust for further information.

Debit Card Option

If offered by your employer, a debit card made available by HealthTrust can be used to purchase eligible expenses. A separate brochure detailing this option will be provided by your employer as needed.

Important Considerations

You should keep in mind the following tax considerations when deciding whether to participate in the Healthcare FSA program:

• Use-or-lose. IRS regulations stipulate a “use-or-lose” rule that requires employees to use all of their designated Healthcare FSA funds during the plan year (or during the 2½-month grace period immediately following the plan year if elected by your employer), or forfeit remaining balances. The only exception to this is the ability to carryover up to $500 to the subsequent plan year, if this option was elected by your employer in lieu of the 2½-month grace period.

• Cannot claim the same expenses as deductions on your income taxes. You cannot receive reimbursement for a qualifying expense through your Healthcare FSA and also deduct the same expense on your federal income taxes. We strongly encourage you to speak with your tax advisor before enrolling in a Healthcare FSA for tax-related questions or concerns.

• Reimbursement accounts affect your Social Security earnings. Because you reduce your taxable income by setting aside money in a Healthcare FSA, your Social Security earnings for the year may be reduced. Over time, this may also lessen your overall Social Security benefits. However, the tax savings you will receive now should compensate for those reductions.

• Important HSA information. Employees who are enrolled in a Health Savings Account (HSA) either through their employer or a spouse’s employer cannot participate in a traditional Health- care FSA per IRS regulations. A limited purpose FSA may be available; please contact your employer for further information.
